REPORTS TO: Director of Development, Marketing & Communications & Vice President, Community Impact & Engagement

STATUS: Internship - Unpaid

United Way of Johnson & Washington Counties mission is to improve lives by uniting the caring power of community in Johnson and Washington Counties. United Way partners with donors; nonprofit organizations; public policy makers at the local, state and national levels; community leaders; and area businesses; to address the challenges we face as a community. Together, we support a vision of a strong, supportive, safe and healthy community.

POSITION SUMMARY: As the Communications Intern, you will be an integral member of the Development, Marketing & Communications team. You'll get real-life, substantive, and meaningful communications experience.

You'll be researching, creating videos and writing content to illustrate the community-building work United Way does in Johnson & Washington Counties. It's a great chance to find out what nonprofit communications work is really like, get an inside peek at philanthropic work and generate work for future portfolios.

The ideal candidate is a creative communicator. They will have a passion for storytelling through virtual mediums, be social media-savvy and have strong written and verbal communication skills. In addition, they should be a detail person, a serious self-starter, and an adept project juggler.

This is an unpaid internship, but full class credit may be provided in coordination with faculty.

EDUCATION/REQUIREMENTS: The Winter Semester Intern opportunity is open to recent graduates or current students of undergraduate or graduate programs. The ideal candidate will have:

- Strong communication and marketing skills.
- Work both independently and as part of a team.
- Ability to multi-task in a fast-paced, changing environment.
- Ability to work with all levels of staff.
- Excellent digital and social media marketing skills.
- Other assignments as requested by the United Way of Johnson & Washington Counties.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS: This job description describes the general nature and level of work performed by employees/interns assigned to this position. It should not be construed as an exhaustive list of all required duties, responsibilities and skills. The physical demands of this job are representative of those required to successfully perform the essential duties of the job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable disabled individuals to perform the essential functions of the job.
